Subject: Fees for Telephone Services During the S.A.R.S. Emergency

In consultation with the Ontario Medical Association, the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care is introducing three new fee schedule codes on a time limited basis to the Physician Schedule of Benefits effective April 1, 2003 in response to the current Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (S.A.R.S.) emergency. These codes will allow physicians to receive fee-for-service payments for telephone services provided under certain specific circumstances. These include if either the physician or the patient is under quarantine or isolation or if a physical encounter between a physician and patient could not occur as scheduled at a hospital or out-patient clinic due to the S.A.R.S. emergency.

The following text will be inserted on page lii of the General Preamble section of the Schedule of Benefits:

32. Telephone Services in Response to Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS)

(b) that a concomitant insured service accompany the provision of a prescription or communication or advice rendered by telephone to a patient, the services described below as K080, K081 and K082 are insured during the applicable period when the following conditions are met:

1. the service is rendered by a physician other than one who is compensated for rendering insured services to that patient, in whole or in part, by any alternative payment plan or as part of any primary care reform initiative;
